ShowplaceWood.com

Your complete guide to Showplace overlay and inset door styles, wood species and finish offerings, including specialty woods and finishes.

it's all up to you

Welcome to an overview of the Showplace door styles, wood species and finish options. As you'll soon see, there are a lot of choices in front of you.

Every Showplace door style is offered in multiple wood species, and in all the finish options associated with each species. All finishes are offered in your choice of satin or matte sheen. There are also overlay and header choices to consider. You'll find full details in this booklet, or on ShowplaceWood.com. But the best way to find that just-right door, wood and finish combination is to look at actual samples at your Showplace dealer, where the subtleties and details will be apparent. They also have the training and experience to help you narrow all the choices down to that one perfect style... your style.

Cherry tends toward elegant warm tones, and also darkens considerably as it ages. Cherry has a fine grain that often exhibits swirls and a flowing, random pattern. Cherry's color varies from nearly white to dark reddish brown.

Maple has a fine, uniform grain pattern, and tends toward lighter colorations. Like all woods, maple will darken with age, but to a lesser degree than cherry. Maple takes on a subtle mottled appearance when finished in the darker stains.

Hickory is a heavy, dense wood that displays vibrant grain patterns and wide variation in color. It is the outgoing extrovert of the hardwood family. Lighter stains make this natural variation the most evident, while darker stains tend to mute it.

Red Oak is a time-honored favorite that has a prominent, distinctive grain character that may show tiny rays and flowing patterns. Red Oak tends toward warm tones, and is very hard with a high shock resistance.

Lyptus is an exotic hardwood that is sustainably grown on environmentally-managed South American plantations. Similar in hardness to maple, lyptus has a richly variable coloration and grain that brings fine mahogany to mind. It has a naturally warm, deep tone that will darken quite a bit as it ages.

All Showplace finishes are offered in your choice of satin or matte sheen. All standard woods and stains are also offered with specialty finish options like glazing and distressing.

Rustic woods create environments with authentic warmth and natural homey charm. Rustics display visible knots, mineral, and color variation in the door frame and solid center panel. The size, number and location of these characteristics will naturally vary.

authentic rustic woods

Showplace rustics are available in the wide range of door styles shown below, as well as several inset styles. Rustic cherry and rustic hickory are offered in all standard stains for those species, as shown on the previous page. Rustic alder is offered in the stains shown at right. The natural, timeworn character of rustics can be enhanced with optional glazing, distressing, or Vintage finish treatments.

Showplace glazed finishes (below) highlight detail and create a subtle impression of aging. Glazing is an additional finish step in which a pigmented material is applied to the surfaces, then hand-wiped partially away. This allows the glazing to “hangup” in areas of detail, adding visual contrast and depth. Because of the handcrafted nature of glazing, it is naturally variable, a unique expression of the artisan's craft.

Glazing can be subtle or dramatic, depending upon the base and glaze colors chosen. A dark glaze on a light stain or paint color can create a pinstriped impression, whereas a light glaze might be almost invisible. Talk to your Showplace designer for good advice on how to achieve the look you want.

Showplace glazing is offered at no additional charge in the six tones shown below. Available on all styles, woods, stains and paints, in satin or matte sheen.

the timeworn character of distressing

Showplace distressing (above) gives an aged, timeworn look to cabinetry, reminiscent of antique furniture. The distressing process creates soft corners and profiles, and subtle, randomly-placed dents. Optional glazing accentuates these features even more.

Showplace distressing includes your choice of oversanding, chain distressing, or both. Distressed paint finishes can also display optional rub-through. In the examples shown above, note the oversanding and rub-through that is visible on corners and raised areas. Also note the random dents created by hand-applied chain distressing techniques. An even higher level of aged character is available with the Showplace Vintage finish (pages 20-21, and shown below) which includes proprietary distressing techniques available only from Showplace.

The versatile palette of Showplace painted finishes give the visual impression of a painted surface, but with Showplace lifetime-warranty quality. These finishes are created by a multistep process that includes final topcoating with an oven-baked varnish for superior durability.

the versatile painted finishes

Fourteen standard paint colors are offered (below). These can be accented with free hand-wiped glazing (far left) to create a unique and subtle persona. An impressive 84 paint/glaze combinations are possible.

The Showplace ColorSelect offering (page 18) lets you specify any of more than a thousand Sherwin-Williams paint colors for your cabinetry, trim and accents.

You can also opt for Showplace distressing (at left) to create an impression of aging. Or select one of the dramatic Vintage paint choices (pages 20-21).

All Showplace finishes are offered in your choice of satin or matte sheen.

No printed page can do justice to these subtle and intriguing finishes. We invite you to review actual finish samples at your Showplace cabinetry showroom.

the paint grade option

Showplace solid paint finishes are offered on our maple door styles. As a lower-cost alternative, Showplace also offers an option called paint grade. With our paint-grade cabinetry, doors and five-piece drawer headers have a solid fine-grain hardwood frame. Center panels and slab headers are of Medium Density Fibercore (MDF), which is an engineered wood product. Face frames and moldings are solid hardwood, and painted end panels are hardwood ply. MDF is used by cabinetry manufacturers of all quality levels because it is more stable than solid hardwood and will not expand and contract with seasonal changes. However, MDF is a material that is not generally discussed as an “all-wood” product in our industry. Charcoal is not offered on paint grade.

Charcoal (above) is a distressed, nearly-black finish that allows subtle undertones of Natural or Cordova to show through.

charcoal and black

Offered on red oak, hickory and cherry, Charcoal has a subtle lustre that will bring grain character to the forefront, or mute it, depending upon the angle of the light. The Black painted finish is similar to Charcoal, but without distressing or undertone. Black is offered on paint grade, maple, red oak, hickory and cherry

The Duet SM door style is a SuperMatte 3DL offering with an ultra-smooth, low-sheen finish. The Tactile offerings have a distinctive surface texture that brings exotic wood grain to mind. Duet SM is offered on matte-sheen paint grade cabinetry in matching or coordinating colors.

Showplace 3D laminates are applied to Medium Density Fibercore (MDF). Face frames and moldings are solid hardwood, and painted end panels are hardwood ply. All other construction details are the same as other Showplace cabinetry.

Quartersawn white oak uses the more difficult and costly quartersawing method to yield material with a distinctive grain pattern and superior stability.

quartersawn white oak

Offered in several versions of the popular Pendleton door style, it is the perfect choice for Mission-themed creations. Quartersawn white oak is also very receptive to glazing, which highlights its unique grain.

Please be aware that some other cabinetry brands will include cheaper non-quartersawn components with their quartersawn doors. Showplace does not do this. We use genuine quartersawn white oak for face frames, end panels, and coordinating elements like moldings on all quartersawn cabinetry orders.

Quartersawn White Oak stains:

If you're feeling a little overwhelmed right now... we understand. There are a lot of choices open to you, and each decision is an important one.

your next step

Unlike furnishings or decor, cabinetry is a lasting, permanent part of the home. It can also be an important factor in the future resale value of your home. Making good decisions that you will be happy with for a long time is a formidable task. But there is help. First off, we recommend you spend some time at ShowplaceWood.com, especially the Gallery section of the site. There you can browse dozens of actual homes, and see how the many Showplace options can express decor themes and personal styles. But the most important decision-making resource available to you is your Showplace dealer. They are specialists in this, and know how to help you create cabinetry you will enjoy for years. Take advantage of all your Showplace dealer has to offer.
