Commodities Update:

- Panel products: OSB producers, in an attempt to match supply with demand has been curtailing some production and planning plant maintenance at some plants while others are claiming problems with log and transportation issues. All this will help them raise prices. We'll see how successful they are.
- SYP plywood is experiencing log issues also, while demand has been very good which translates to firming/raising prices.
- Dimension lumber: SPF lumber in general, has had slow sales due to weather and prices reflect that with not much movement up or down. 2X6's has been tight, more expensive and hard to source. SYP(treated lumber species) has had one-two weeks of noticeable increased prices. Our early season treated lumber may show higher pricing than current.
- Many manufacturers of roofing are announcing price increases of 5-7% effective 4/1.
- The drywall increase from USG was delayed until 3/1 and will not be more than $.02 per square foot. We'll raise our retails by mid month.
- Again, our fiberglass price from a few months previous will be implemented by mid March.

Words Worth Reading:

'A human being is a part of the whole called by us the universe, a part limited in time and space. He experiences himself, his thoughts and feelings as something separated from the rest, a kind of optical delusion of his consciousness. This delusion is a kind of prison for us, restricting us to our personal desires and to affection for a few persons nearest to us. Our task must be to free ourselves from this prison by widening our circle of compassion to embrace all living creatures and the whole of nature in its beauty.'

Albert Einstein

Interesting Tidbit! From This Old House Magazine

WD-40-Invented in 1953 by Norman Larsen, San Diego, CA

Larsen, an industrial chemist who founded the Rocket Chemical Co., had failed 39 times in his quest to create a penetrating, low-viscosity lubricant that could halt corrosion on booster rockets. But the 40th worked like a charm.(WD-40 stands for water-displacement formula number 40). Five years later, when Larsen packaged the stuff in aerosol cans for consumers, sales skyrocketed. Over the years, inventive WD-40 fans have sent the company more than 2,000 ways the lubricant can be used, from freeing stuck knots to keeping taxidermied snake skin pliable.
