Commodities Update:

- Dimension lumber/Panel products: From the looks of the market, it looks like we've hit bottom on both dimension lumber and panels and that prices will start working their way up again (actually, they already have).
- One fiberglass insulation manufacturer has announced a 10% increase for 12/2/22. It is likely others will follow. The earliest we will raise prices is early 2023 if JM announces an increase.
- Related updates, one rigid insulation (HiR sheathing) manufacturer has announced an 8% increase for this month. We'll see how the market responds before we adjust our retails.
- USG Interiors announced a ceiling tile increase of 10% for 10/10/22. While we have not yet raised our retail prices, that may happen this month.
- The steel market has lost much of its strength and many steel products we sell have already started to come down in price.
- As we've printed last month, with the exception of a few stinkers, many of our vendors have returned to traditional shipping cycles.

Words Worth Reading:

A SWEET LESSON IN HUMANITY

Years ago, a 10 year old boy approached the counter of a soda shop and climbed on to a stool. "What does an ice cream sundae cost?" he asked the waitress. "Fifty cents," she answered. The youngster reached deep in his pockets and pulled out an assortment of change, counting it carefully as the waitress grew impatient. She had 'bigger' customers to wait on. "Well, how much would just plain ice cream be?" the boy asked. The waitress responded with noticeable irritation in her voice, "Thirty-five cents." Again, the boy slowly counted his money. "May I have some plain ice cream in a dish then, please?" He gave the waitress the correct amount, and she brought him the ice cream. Later, the waitress returned to clear the boy's dish and when she picked it up, she felt a lump in her throat. There on the counter the boy left two nickels and five pennies. She realized that he had enough money for the sundae, but sacrificed it so that he could leave her a tip. The moral: Before passing judgment, first treat others with courtesy, dignity and respect.

Quote to Think About:

"When I hear somebody say that life is hard, I am always tempted to ask, 'compared to what?'"

Sydney J Harris

(It might sound corny, but it does help to "count our blessings" so we can pay attention to all the good things in our lives.)
