Commodities Update:

- Panels (OSB and SYP plywood) and dimension lumber (SPF and Pressure Treated) have been playing a game of see-saw this year so far. First it goes up, then comes back down and now is firming and going back in an upward direction. With the exception of OSB products, most of the gains and losses over the weeks have been somewhat minimal.
- Somewhere between June 7 and July 15 all major fiberglass insulation manufacturers will be raising prices by 7%. More than likely, we'll be able to hold off on any retail price hikes until mid-July.
- Rockwool insulation, as stated last month, announced an increase of 8% for July 1. With the severe shortages of the last 6-8 months, this increase will most likely take hold.

Customer offer:

We have occasionally offered to our customers the opportunity to receive your invoices and monthly statements via email. The invoices are sent on the day the invoice posts to your account and you will receive your statement the very day they are prepared (usually the 1st of each month). If you would like to receive these electronic communications, please contact Theresa Cole (theresa.cole@ilioninc.com) our Office Manager, and she will take care of arranging that for you.

New Inventory Items:

This month we will have Dupont's FrothPak 210 foam sealant in inventory as well as the 24oz Gap&Crack Sealant along with the applicator tool and tool cleaner.

Galvanized steel Sewer & Drain test plugs (1-1/2", 2", 3" and 4")

Words Worth Reading:

“Going high” is about resisting the temptation to participate in shallow fury and corrosive contempt and instead figuring out how to respond with a clear voice to whatever is shallow and corrosive around you. It's what happens when you take a reaction and “mature it” into a response.

Because here's the thing: Emotions are not plans. They don't solve problems or right any wrongs. You can feel them- you will feel them, inevitably- but be careful about letting them guide you. Rage can be a dirty windshield. Hurt is like a broken steering wheel. Disappointment will only ride, sulking and unhelpful, in the back seat. If you don't do something constructive with them, they'll take you straight into a ditch.

My power has always hinged on my ability to keep myself out of the ditch.
