Commodities Update:

- Panels: OSB prices, at present, are falling from the huge increases from late winter and spring. SYP plywood is only trickling down slowly as well.
- Dimension lumber: Both SPF and PT lumber have seen very noticeable declines in this past month. Experts say mill curtailments and extended summer shutdowns will put an end to this downward trend.
- Insulation: Rockwool, as previously reported, will increase 8% on 7/1/24. We are no longer in a controlled distribution state for this product line. Supply is readily available. Fiberglass insulation will increase 6-7% by mid-month (July). Rigid extruded foam sheets have increased 9% but we are waiting to see if this price holds before we increase our retails.
- Roofing: With the April increase now established and holding, we will increase our retails on roofing shingles this month accordingly.
- Rebar/ Mesh: Both rebar and concrete mesh prices are stable as of mid-June.

Quote To Think About:

"Somewhere inside we hear a voice. It leads us in the direction of the person we wish to become. But it is up to us whether or not to follow."

Words Worth Reading:

(true patriotism, courage and love)

In this presidential election year it would be great to read these words written by Sullivan Ballou where he writes of true patriotism (as well as love for his wife).

July 14th, 1861 Camp Clark Washington

My very dear Sarah,

The indications are very strong that we shall move in a few days- perhaps tomorrow. Lest I should not be able to write again, I feel impelled to write a few lines that may fall under your eyes when I shall be no more...

I have no misgivings about, or lack of confidence in the cause in which I am engaged, and my courage does not halt or falter. I know how strongly American Civilization now leans on the triumph of the Government and how great a debt we owe to those who went before us through the blood and sufferings of the Revolution. I am willing- perfectly willing- to lay down all the joys in this life, to help maintain this Government and to pay that debt...

Sarah my love for you is deathless, it seems to bind me with mighty cables that nothing but Omnipotence could break; and yet my love of Country comes over me like a strong wind and bears me unresistibly on with all the chains to the battlefield. The memories of the blissful moments I have spent with you come creeping over me, and I am most grateful to God and to you that I have enjoyed them for so long. And hard it is for me to give them up and burn to ashes the hopes of future years, when, God willing, we might still have lived and loved together, and seen our sons grow up to honorable manhood, around us. I have, I know, but few small claims upon Divine Providence, but something whispers to me- perhaps it is the wafted prayer of my little Edgar, that I shall return to my loved ones unharmed. If I do not, my dear Sarah, never forget how much I love you and when my last breath escapes me on the battlefield, it will whisper your name. Forgive my many faults and the many pains I have caused you. How thoughtless and foolish I have oftentimes been! How gladly would I wash out with my tears every little spot upon your happiness...

But Oh Sarah! If the dead can come back to this earth and flit unseen around those they loved, I shall always be near you; in the gladdest days and in the darkest nights... always, always. And if there be a soft breeze upon your cheek, it shall be my breath. As the cool air fans your throbbing temple, it shall be my spirit passing by. Sarah, do not mourn me as dead; think of me as gone in wait for thee, for we shall meet again...

-Sullivan Ballou was killed a week later at the First Battle of Bull Run, July 21, 1861
